"Our cattle are raised on a very dynamic variety of feed conditions, spending winters in the rolling foothills of the Central Valley and summers following the feed on allotments in the Sierra Nevada mountains since the 1880s. We have found since including Vintage Angus genetics in our crossbred commercial cattle, we have increased weaning/yearling weights in the fall and the maternal traits are really starting to show in the cows. We first attended the Vintage Angus sale to purchase bulls for our registered Angus cattle and immediately knew we were going to use them in our commercial operation as well. Now we look forward to selling our calves to repeat buyers and attending the Vintage Angus sale every September."
